

Web-based recording playback

Requires audio recording file. Included in the base price of the conference. Editing services are not included and incur an extra charge.

After your conference, make the event recording available for replay at the same link as the Live event and distribute it to participants who were not able to attend. All Live events are automatically recorded and made available for replay after the event ends for up to 12 months. The event replay includes the web content from your webcast event and the audio from the operator-assisted conference.

Delivery time and format

The replay is available within 1 business day. Depending on the length of the conference and editing requests, standard delivery may take up to 5 days.
